I AM... Subject to change without notice - Book Two Cheri M Bauer

This book is a personal look at the 'Law of attraction' and experiments conducted by the author. A surprisingly profound book written by a newly emerging writer. Speaking to the questions of life that most of us ask at one time or another - "Who am I?", "Why am I here?", "How do I make a life that I choose to live?", "What really is the purpose of life?", "Do humans really have a hidden power?" (as well as countless other questions). The author sets out to truly understand and explore the deep mysteries, while managing her own personal doubts. Highly candid and honest, this book is a remarkable journey into the "Create your own reality" theory. Filled with in-depth analysis of thoughts, psyche, perceptions, and programmed beliefs. This book is about being yourself, acknowledging your own unique gifts and perspectives. This book takes a revealing look at old (and new) paradigms of learning (mystical, philosophical, common day to day interactions and beliefs) and opens up new perspectives and perceptions. It is not a flight of fantasy, although the author's personal experiences are highly profound - seeming to step straight from the pages of a good fiction book. The author does not ask anyone to believe her, rather she encourages the readers to make their own personal discoveries, knowing how important it is for an individual to have their own experiences. A delightful and thought provoking read, filled with inspiration and heart-warming encouragement for the readers. Written in simple common language so that readers can easily understand and navigate the abstract concepts that she encountered in her experience with the Deep Mysteries. Cheri focuses on writing in a matter-of-fact way, rather than trying to lure readers with over the top pitch lines; choosing to use her own experience and encouraging others to step outside of their doubt by providing good methods to utilize for themselves if they are curious to try for themselves.
